IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our husband and father, Charlie H. Paulette, who passed away 3 years ago, Aug. 25, 1958.
Three years have passed away,
Another sun has set;
Still we love and long for you,
And never can forget.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thoughts to reach,
God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills too hard to climb;
So he gently closed your weary eyes,
And whispered Peace Be Thine.
—Sadly missed by Wife and Children, Shirley and Wayne. (1tc)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Mss. T. M. Martin, who passed away Aug. 22, 1960.
Our loved one left us,
And went out of our sight,
But not out of our mind,
For there are precious memories,
In the hearts of those left behind,
Before our eyes she faded,
Growing weaker every day,
Patiently suffering,
Until God called her away.
—Sadly missed by Her Children. (1tp)

Contest For Young Boys

Registration began on Monday, August 28, for the nationwide Punt, Pass and Kick competition, in which Appomattox County area grade school boys aged six through 10 can compete in a test of football skills for prizes ranging from football equipment to a trip to the National Football League Championship game and a visit to the White House.

Eligible boys may register, without cost, at Grinela Motor Co., Appomattox, Va. between the hours of 8 A. M. to 6:30 P. M. Each must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The Appomattox competition is scheduled for October 6, at A. H. S.

In order to help the contestants train for the County of Appomattox panting, passing and place-kicking competition each entrant will receive an instruction booklet containing tips by football League record - holders, Johnny Unitas, Yale Lary, and Paul Hornung.

Pete Rozelle, Commissioner of National Football League, which is cooperating with the Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company in this national competition, points out that the program will enable all of boys to participate in athletic competition.

In the "P. P. & K" competition boys will be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punts, passes and &place-kicks. The five top winners in the Appomattox competition—one for each age group—will receive football uniforms. Second place winners will receive warm-up jackets, and footballs will be given to the boys, 6 through 10, who rank third. The scores of the top five boys in the Appomattox contest will be compared with the top scores from all the other contests held in the region covered by the telecasts of the Washington Red Skins home football games. The top competitors, one in each age group, from this region will appear on television during a November home game of the Red Skins to test their football skills against winners of other regions.

All scores then will be compared to determine the five National champions.

Tips To Cattlemen

Says Giffith, " Much of the economic feasibility of raising herd average to new high depends on the ability of farmers to balance increase in a number of variables. Further incease in grain feeding alone could be justified at present, but after a point the increased in production might not justify the increased cost.

"Even though it may be profitable it may not be as profitable as investing feed dollars in improving some other financially rewarding aspect of the operation.. Ever increasing improvement in the general productivity, capacity of cows and better feeding and milking methods will make the feeding rate of the future far higher than was ever dreamed possible.

The specialist believes that additional throught and effort is seriously needed to improve nutritional levels in dairy herds.He says "Records are essential in helping to locate weaknesses. It cost money to feed, but it cost more not to...

TIPS ON FABRICS

Remodeling or redecorating a room? Fabrics and trimmings are among your most useful aids, say home economists at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The economists say to be a "tag watcher." Many new fibers have appeared on the market in the last decade, so you'll find it helpful to study and read the tags to determine which fiber or combination of fibers is best suited for your particular purpose. The tag will also tell you how to care for the fabric.

What do you want in fabrics for windows? If you have trouble with sun fading, consider one of the solution-dyed acetates. The color is sealed into the grain before it is woven.

If you need resistance to sun, but sheerness, try solution-dyed rayons such as Fortisan, Jetspun, and Cupre-Color. Fortisan is used with cotton, rayon or silk - seldom alone.

Or if you want resistance to moisture, humidity, and wrinkles - dacron may be the answer. It comes in casement cloth, solid colors, off whites, textures, and sheers.

If you want ease of care, sheerness, and privacy - fiberglass may help you. It is now treated to make it abrasive resistant. It can be washed and re-hung in 20 minutes. It cannot be ironed.

Cotton is still popular, particularly with rural homemakers who use or prefer it for curtains, draperies and slip covers, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture report.

The VPI home economists also have advice about slip covers. A slip cover fabric must be strong. It must stand strain, and have some "give" to it. The heavier and more firmly woven materials will not wrinkle easily, are free from excessive sizing, and are dust-resistant.

FACTORS NEEDED FOR GOOD CROPS

Fertilizer, seed, and a good season are three key factors in successful small grain production, says Jim Smith, County Agent, "You can't do much about the weather, but good production practice will pay off." Smith says.

Usually small grains are planted in fields that successfully grow row crops such as corn or soybeans. Soil suited to such row crops is ordinarily suited also to small grains. Often farmers don't use enough fertilizer for a good crop. Recommended program is to apply part of the nitrozen and all the phosphate and potash at seedling. Then topdress with nitrogen in the winter if needed. At least 20 to 30 pounds of nitrogen, 40 to 100 pounds of phosphate and 30 to 60 pounds of potash should be applied at seedling. This can be obtained in 400 to 700 pounds of 5-10-10, 5-10-5 or 5-20-10 or equivalent materials. The top small grain producers are using the higher rates of fertilizer. On soils of very high fertility nitrogen may be omitted. Then don't forget to topdress with nitrogen in the winter if lodging is not a problem.

A soil test will help indicate the fertility level and fertilizer and lime needs. Soil boxes can be obtained from the county agent's office.

The second important thing is to use quality seed. There is an ample supply of certified seed available for fall plantings of most of the popular varieties. Plant a variety recommended for Appomattox County.

Blue Mold Is Reported

Tobacco growers can learn a lesson from blue mold woes in Virginia this year, says S. J. Fenne, plant pathologist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The disease - once top of the list of taobacco plagues - has been brought largely under control with chemicals the past few years. But still some growers become lax - and have trouble.

Fenne says blue mold this year was first reported in Virginia plant beds in early May. By May 20 the disease was generally spread throughout the flue-cured belt. Weather conditions were favorable for the disease, but most tobacco growers followed the control recommendations, and a plant shortage did not develop.

The first recorded report of blue mold in the field was on May 31. During the following 10 days, numerous reports indicated that field infection was widespread. Some growers, who failed to dust or spray their plant beds properly set diseased plants in the field before new healthy roots were developed. The infected plants did not grow well in the fiel, and much replanting was necessary. Where blue mold infected plants stayed in the plant bed until healthy roots developed, they survived and grew well in the field.

U. S. SAVINGS BOND PROGRAM HAS GOOD BUY

Some half-million Americans who own Series H Savings Bonds bought between June 1952 and January 1957 are in for a nice surprise — one that will bring extra money into their pockets.

Mr. J. Garland Plunkett, County Savings Bonds Chairman, calls attention to a recent change in Treasury regulations permitting owners of the maturing H Bonds to continue holding them for an additional 10 years at a high rate of interest - a straight 3 3-4 per cent annually.

Mr. Plunkett pointed out that these H. Bonds were originally issued to pay an average of 3 per cent annually for the nine-year, eight-month life of the bond.

"Holders of these Series H Savings Bonds will be notified by the Treasury of the extension privilege granted them when they receive their next to last interest check."
